

The purpose of this set of exercises is to get you familiar with running model selection tests. Test the two models in Huth, Gelpi, and Bennett (1993), and two of the models from Pollins (1996). Software for model selection tests, as well as examples for running the software, are on the course web site.