

A Sicilian Fiat 500!

Apply online: studyabroad.rochester.edu

Applications open: April 2, 2018

Application deadline: October 1, 2018

For more information, contact Donna Logan, Arezzo Program Director, at donna.logan@rochester.edu.

Are those puffs of smoke on the Vesuvius?

ALL NEW Spring Semester in

Italy

Arezzo:
Lisio Italian Studies Program

January 27 – May 3, 2019

Piazza Grande in Arezzo

Paolo Orsi Museum

Christian Sorto and Mara Hollenback climb to great heights

Mission Statement

The Arnold Liso '56, '60M (MD) and Anne Moore Liso Italian Studies Program offers a distinctive academic curriculum in Italy that combines a broad spectrum of disciplines. Beyond the academics, the program promotes an intensive cultural experience within the rich social fabric of Italy, especially in Tuscany.

Program Highlights

- “Grand Tour” 2019: Republican and Imperial Roman cities
- Many study-related site visits including Rome, Ostia Antica, Pompeii, Florence, Orvieto, Siena, Poppi, La Verna, and Venice
- Credit towards a variety of majors, including ATHS, Italian Studies, Digital Media Studies, International Business, and Public Health.

Ancient quarries in Selinunte

Cultural Tourism in Venice

New program features: Spring semester!

Core Courses

- Monuments of Ancient Italy: History, Structure, Form
- Italian Language and Cultural Competency

8 credits in elective of choice:

- Art, Architecture, and Literature in the Age of Dante (Art History)
- International Management in the Context of Contemporary Italy (Business, International Relations, Economics)*
- Observational Documentary and Intercultural Communication
- Public Health: An International Overview*
- Social Media*
- Why Do We Live Longer in Tuscany? (Public Health)

**Courses will be offered with sufficient enrollment*

See new website for full course descriptions, and instruction and living details. Coming soon!

Authentic, intensive, and unique experiences abroad. Meliora!

Posing across the river from St. Mark's square