This lecture provides a discussion of some of the challenges and issues faced in work to preserve cultural heritage—architecture, paintings, archival documents and archaeological objects—in a small town in Umbria, Italy.