The archaeological site of Carsulae is a well-preserved ancient Roman colony in central Italy. In this lecture, Dr. Whitehead, director of archaeological excavations at Carsulae’s bath complex, provides an introduction to the site, and she presents the latest finds from excavations at Carsulae.