- Motivating the Middle
- Transitioning Leadership
- Advanced Goal Setting: Keep Calm and Get Stuff Done
- Creating an Inclusive Community

One option for fulfilling Level Three of the Medallion Program is to complete a specialized project that focuses on leadership in a particular area. This project can be created within fraternity and sorority life.

You should contact the Director of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs (John.DiSarro@rochester.edu) to discuss the idea for your potential project. Possible projects include:

- Creating the curriculum for a Medallion Workshop specifically focused on an aspect of fraternity/sorority leadership
- Developing academic resources to support students joining fraternities and sororities
- Addressing a major issue affecting fraternity and sorority life at a campus and national level such as hazing, alcohol and other drug use, or sexual misconduct.

Medallion Leadership Society

A group of students dedicated to leadership. The society educates their peers to realize their leadership potential and become engaged members of the campus and surrounding communities, in an effort to achieve positive social change. Members in the society will participate in committees, have opportunities to meet with deans, and plan leadership programs for the Office of the Dean of Students (ODOS).
