Warner School creates urban institute

The University’s Margaret Warner Graduate School of Education and Human Development has created an Institute for Urban Schools and Education. The new institute, which will support and accelerate the changes taking place in urban education today, will have a close working relationship with the Rochester City School District. It will facilitate faculty involvement in research as well as in educational practice.

Frederick C. Jefferson, Jr., professor of education at the Warner School, will direct the new Institute for Urban Schools and Education and Human Development. It will facilitate faculty involvement in research as well as in educational practice.

Boeckman, Farrar are Gates Scholars

Two Rochester chemistry professors have been named Marshall Gates Distinguished Faculty Scholars. The new award is in honor of the former faculty member in the Department of Chemistry. Before he retired in 1981, Gates became known around the world as the first person to synthesize the enzyme in the laboratory, launching Rochester’s chemistry program to national prominence.

The new award is in honor of the former faculty member in the Department of Chemistry. Before he retired in 1981, Gates became known around the world as the first person to synthesize the enzyme in the laboratory, launching Rochester’s chemistry program to national prominence.
Women’s health focus of conference

A one-day local conference will focus on the future of health care and the University of Rochester’s Blackwell Institute. Advocacy and Action for Women’s Health will be held Saturday, March 30, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the University Museum. The institute is a core program of Rochester’s Susan B. Anthony University Center, a national network connecting the University of Rochester’s National Women’s Hall of Fame, and the Women’s Rights National Historical Park. Among the participants will be local health-care providers, and others who will set the agenda for women’s health care in the 21st century, the institute will look at role models, health-care service, in real-life situations, on behalf of women and their health care.

The conference is named in honor of the first woman to receive a medical degree from a U.S. institution.

“Women have been advocates for grassroots movements throughout history. We want to explore how the women’s health sparked at the local level,” said Nan Johnson, director of the Susan B. Anthony University Center. In preparation for the conference, participants will address current health questions: Antonio Novello, former U.S. surgeon general, now president of the International Federation for Health Information with UNICEF; Susan Reverby, nationally recognized women’s health historian and the author of American Women’s Studies at Wellesley College, Joaquin Campbell, the Anna D. Wolf Endowed Professor at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, and Joan Thoens, attending cardiologist and director of cardiac rehabilitation at Highland Hospital.

Registration is $50. $35 for students with ID. Lunch is provided. Space is limited; registration is required. For more information, call x5-4354.

Rochester helps plan ASL conference

A national conference in Rochester this month will continue exploration of the growing field of sign language. The two-day seminar, sponsored by the second National ASL Literature Conference with National Technical Institute for the Deaf (NTID) at Rochester Institute of Technology and Rochester School for the Deaf. It will take place from March 28 to 31 at NTID.

Among the events will be the ASL written language seminar, with workshops designed to help participants improve their use of the language, and a presentation of analysis of their work. Additional presentations and workshops will address a range of related topics, including a performance of Hair No Scream by Lights On! Deaf Theater of Rochester, N.Y. The English voice interpreted; select evening performances will provide voice interpretation through closed-circuit headphones.

Registration is $225 walk-in, one-day Friday or Saturday registration is $120. Fax requests for registration to 677-6350. Discounts for counted registration fees are available until March 22 University students, faculty, and staff. For more information, check the world wide web site at http://www.ling.riochesterrc.edu/ ahho/home.html or contact ASL senior lecturer Deirdre Schliefer at deidre@ling.rochester.edu.

University offers teen science programs

Many University students are interested in working on campus this summer, in either part-time or full-time positions. University policy requires that summer positions be made available to continuing full-time University students first.

The Center for Work and Career Development is now posting summer 1996 student payroll positions. To post an existing job (one that has already been assigned a job number) simply send a completed Position Action Form with the appropriate pay rate and other revision information. When the position is filled, send a Student Employee Payroll Authorization Form to the Center to authorize the student to send a Student Employee Payroll Authorization Form to the Center to authorize the student to send a request form to the Financial Aid Office.

Many University students are interested in working on campus this summer, in either part-time or full-time positions. University policy requires that summer positions be made available to continuing full-time University students first.

The Center for Work and Career Development is now posting summer 1996 student payroll positions. To post an existing job (one that has already been assigned a job number) simply send a completed Position Action Form with the appropriate pay rate and other revisions to the Center. When the position is filled, send a Student Employee Payroll Authorization Form to the Center to authorize the student to send a request form to the Financial Aid Office.

Departmental positions include:

• Process a 700-700 form and send it to Employment Services Office and indicate whether the position is closed or unfilled. Job posting requests will be waived since positions are for the summer only.

• Contact the TSP Office with the name of the identified candidate. TSP will set up an interview with the individual in order to get the necessary paperwork (This needs to happen before we travel). The TSP Office can be reached at x5-7873 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., for more information.

• The Employment Services Office and Temporary Services Program Office will not be accepting applications for summer-only positions.

In Brief

Multimedia classes

The evening classes to be offered in April at the Multimedia Center, Room G113, Rhea Library. No computer experience is necessary for these basic introductory classes of 40 hours a week and will receive $3.50 per hour. For more information and application material, call x5-5101.

Schools that Meet Your Audience Needs

The University offers a variety of presentations and panels that meet the needs of a range of audiences. For questions concerning training programs, policies and procedures, enrollment forms, or accommodations due to disabilities, call x5-2103.

Gospel fest

The University Gospel Choir celebrates gospel music with its 20th annual Gospel fest at 6 p.m., Saturday, March 30, in Strong Auditorium. Several guest groups, including the Monroe Community College Choir, the Youngstown Community Choir, and the LeMoyne College Voices of Power, will join more than 60 members of the University Gospel Choir for the Gospel fest. Alvin Parrish will direct.

Admission is $2 for students and $3 each for the public. For more information, call x5-2828.

Jazz concert

The University Jazz Ensemble will perform a concert of new and classic jazz at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 29, in Lower Strong Auditorium.

Both the big band and the smaller Cameron Jazz Combo will perform. Alan Neves will direct.

Admission is free to open and the public. For more information, call x5-2828.

Ethics and medical experiments

A medical symposium at Oberlin University, Friday, March 29, will take a look at the ethics of human medical experimentation. The focus of the symposium, which will run from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in Whipple Auditorium, will be the Tuskegee Syphilis Study which spanned a 40-year period ending in the early 1970s.

Susan Reverby, a renowned women’s health historian, will open the symposium with a lecture on the troubling ethical issues raised by the study. Reverby, who is the Luella LaMer Associate Professor for Women’s Studies and chair of the women’s studies department at Wellesley College, developed a paper on the Tuskegee study as a fellow in the Dulles Institute for Al- American Research at Harvard University.

The symposium is free and open to the public.

For more information, call x5-2032.

Blood drive

The River Campus Faculty and Staff Blood Drive will be held for Wednesdays, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Mondays, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the May Room of Wilson Commons. Appointment are encouraged, walk-ins are welcome.

For more information, call x5-4085.
Events scheduled for Monday, March 25:
- 9 a.m. To 6 p.m. Voluntary blood drives. Voluntary Blood Drive, 1465 Eastlake Ave., Suite 105, Monday through Friday.
M&D ADMIN

TREATMENT AND PATIENT CARE

-. Enter Charges on Billing system. Assigned. AAS in business field, one to two training employees including solving problems.

- Secretaries

- Medical assistant (MBA) or RN, one year of related post HS education and proficiency. May concentrate on secretarial, nursing, business, or related area.

- Secretaries: set up and maintain office supplies. STRONG CAN-MANAGEMENT SKILLS.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 05: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 04: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 05: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 05: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 05: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 05: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.

- SECRETARY II—GRADE 05: Provides assistance to various sections of the office. Responds to correspondence. Revises, edits, and manipulates various reports and documents. Requires Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, and two to three years related experience.

- SECRETARY I—GRADE 04: Provides word processing, filing, and clerical assistance. Performs a wide range of duties in a medical office environment. Requires one year of related experience.