What is ORCID?

12:00 – 1:00 p.m. Thursday, February 12, 2015 310 Carlson Library

ORCID is an open, non-profit, global, community-driven initiative to disambiguate authors of scholarly work and to better connect researchers to their research output and to each other. ORCID is increasingly integrated into research systems, including ScienCV, and some funders, such as the Department of Energy, and publishers like PLOS and Nature, want you to provide your ORCID id when you submit a proposal or manuscript. Want to know more? Join us for a one-hour session on ORCID: what it is, why you should care, and how you get started. Please RSVP to Kathleen Fear.
