Roles & Responsibilities

UR Office of Research and Project Administration

The Office of Research and Projects Administration (ORPA) is the administrative office legally able to submit proposals to external sponsoring entities for financial support in the form of a contract, grant, or agreement, and legally able to commit the University in the event an award is made. The head of ORPA is designated as the Institutional Official and has the authority (or may delegate it to other ORPA staff) to sign funding proposals, to receive awards and to conduct any other official business with funding agencies, whether federal or private. ORPA recommends, drafts and administers research administration policies in concert with other University offices.

The Director of ORPA reports directly to the Senior Vice President for Administration and Finance.

PROPOSAL PREPARATION AND SUBMISSION

General

It is the responsibility of ORPA to ensure that all proposals submitted to funding sponsors adhere to both University and sponsor policy. This is accomplished by assisting and advising faculty and Departmental Administrative Staff during the proposal development process, facilitating communication and agreements that need to occur prior to proposal submission, and reviewing carefully all proposed project commitments for unit, Dean’s Office or other management approval. In addition, it is the responsibility of ORPA to ensure that proposals have undergone regulatory compliance committee review (i.e., RSRB, UCAR, etc.) if required at submission time. As such, ORPA staff are required to be knowledgeable and current in all federal and sponsor requirements, including agency specific electronic proposal submission systems, and offer workshops and training sessions on these topics.
