The University of Rochester Fraternity and Sorority Community is a unique and award-winning community that, through the support and endorsement of the University, fosters personal and intellectual growth for the student body. The community is composed of active members and associated organizations, all working together to create an environment that is conducive to the personal and intellectual growth of its members. The University also supports the development of leadership skills and the ability to work effectively in a team setting.

Fraternal and Sorority Life at Your University

Fraternal and sorority life is an important part of the college experience for many students. It provides an opportunity to connect with others who have similar interests and to develop leadership skills. Fraternities and sororities also provide a means for students to become involved in campus activities and to contribute to the community.

A New Year... a New Beginning

The fall semester was extremely busy and sometimes stressful for many students. In some cases, this stress takes on an unhealthy form, particularly in the context of the organization of the student body. In these cases, it is important to remember that youth is a valuable gift that must be carefully nurtured and protected.

University of Rochester’s Success-Driven Model

As a result of these efforts, the University of Rochester has created a new program called Success-Driven Model. The program focuses on identifying and supporting students who are at risk of not achieving their academic goals. The program includes a range of services, such as tutoring, study skills training, and counseling.

It’s a great time to get involved and volunteer. Shakespeare said it best: ‘To thine own self be true.’

Best Practices

The University of Rochester’s Success-Driven Model is based on the best practices of other successful programs in the country. It is designed to help students who are at risk of not achieving their academic goals.
