

UR YEAR ONE ROCHESTER RESOURCES

President's Breakfast

September 9

8:30–10 a.m.

Eisenberg Rotunda,

Schlegel Hall

President Seligman personally welcomes new faculty from throughout the University.

New Faculty Family Picnic

September 10

11:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.

Eastman Quadrangle

An informal affair for parents and kids, of hot dogs, hamburgers, sodas and beer, jugglers, face painters, card tricks, live music, and more.

Meet Your Librarian for Lunch

September 16

11:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.

Campus Libraries

University of Rochester librarians are among our “crown jewels,” unparalleled in their capacity to provide support. Beyond ensuring access to academic resources, University of Rochester librarians collaborate with faculty on projects ranging from use of archival collections in teaching research methods, to mastering eXtensible Catalog, the most advanced simultaneous search software available. Colleagues and librarians tour the resources, then discuss specific needs over lunch.

Launching Your Academic Career at Rochester

September 23

2–5 p.m.

Saunders Research Building

This short conference introduces new Rochester scholars and scientists to the network of support in place to help fund and disseminate their scholarship and research. Senior Associate Dean for Clinical Research Tom Pearson opens the meeting with a keynote on mentoring—how new faculty can initiate the relationships critical to their career success. Field-based breakouts then offer direct exchange between new faculty, research deans, professional staff, and colleagues with records of success. A reception afterward allows the conversation to continue informally.

Eastman Community Music School Showcase

September 24

3–6 p.m.

Hatch Recital Hall,

Eastman School of Music

A child- and parent-friendly showcase of world-class, home-grown musical talent, by the students of our singular Eastman Community Music School, performed in our superb new space, Hatch Recital Hall, followed by Q&A on being an ECSM student and supper in Cominski Promenade.

Process and Perspectives on Promotion at the University of Rochester: Advice from Deans and Colleagues

October 28

11 a.m.–2 p.m.

Rush Rhees Library

Three rounds of conversation on the greatest source of anxiety for early career faculty: promotion and tenure; beginning with the personal experiences of recently promoted faculty, followed by the university-level perspective from the Provost (over lunch), and concluding with school deans, who explain procedural steps and field questions, to clarify the path at the University of Rochester.
