

The Meliora Collective is an innovative online platform that empowers alumni, students, and parents to pursue personal and professional growth. Make meaningful connections with those in your field, your region, and individuals with similar experiences. With advanced tools and features, making the most of the University of Rochester network has never been easier.

Why join?

To expand your connections, become a mentor, or receive and give advice.

Every person brings different experiences to the platform, which over time, contributes to the resources available on The Collective.

Leverage the University's network.

With more features than LinkedIn—and just for the University of Rochester—use your experiences and connections to build deeper and stronger relationships.

It makes communicating easy.

Arrange meetings, video chat, and send messages within the platform—no need to share your personal contact information unless you want to.

Getting started is simple.

Sign in using your LinkedIn account to populate your professional information, or use your Facebook login or email address.

Platform features.

Job Board.

Post, browse, or apply for opportunities that are affiliated with members of the University community as hiring managers or referrers. Featuring additional integration with Indeed, the job board is for experienced positions from a variety of industries and companies.
