Summer 2017 Welcome Packet

Welcome to Summer Sessions at the University of Rochester!

Whether you're on campus taking classes, conducting research or participating in a special program, we hope you enjoy your time here and the gorgeous summer weather.

Hang out with friends at one of many upcoming area festivals, win some prizes during an on-campus trivia night, or take a shuttle to the South Wedge, East End or College Town to check out the local Rochester culture. Visit the Marketplace Mall and Regal Cinemas for dinner and a movie by utilizing our Wednesday and Saturday shuttle services.

With so much to see and do, we'd like to provide you with this resource packet to maximize your Rochester summer experience. In it you'll find information about helpful campus offices, dining and local transportation options, on and off campus activities and events as well as a variety of other useful info.

Stay connected on what's happening by signing up to receive the weekly Summer Highlights newsletter at: <https://ccc.rochester.edu/form/start/12436> or by liking our Facebook page - www.facebook.com/rochestersummer.

You can also connect with us on the Summer Sessions website at www.rochester.edu/summer or by email at osp@rochester.edu with any questions or feedback.

Here's to another great Rochester summer!

Sincerely,

GET INVOLVED IN UR COMMUNITY

STATEMENT OF EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY

The University of Rochester seeks to provide the best possible environment for excellence in learning, research, and teaching at the collegiate, graduate and professional levels. To accomplish this, we bring together faculty, students, and staff who have achieved excellence or show great promise toward that goal, who are dedicated to learning, and who will help to build a community that encourages all of its members to succeed and grow.

Our University's distinctive heritage – bolstered by foundational community and university leaders such as abolitionist Frederick Douglass, women's right activist Susan B. Anthony, and corporate leader and philanthropist Joseph C. Wilson, as well as numerous path-breaking scholars – leads us actively to seek out and include persons from diverse backgrounds and origins who carry with them their own valued and important perspectives.

The University's motto – Meliora (“ever better”) – defines excellence as a process of continual improvement. Pursuing excellence in learning and teaching in the framework of our distinctive heritage demands the inclusion of those who will collectively and individually enhance our diversity.

Further, productive inquiry best takes place when individuals can explore and share their experience and thoughts as equal members of our community, uninhibited by prejudice or discrimination. Thus, our pursuit of excellence requires that we create and support a community of faculty, students and staff who together and individually enhance diversity and who strive to make themselves and our community ever better.

The University of Rochester envisions itself as a community that welcomes, encourages and supports individuals who desire to contribute to and benefit from, the institution's missions of teaching, research, patient care, performance, and community service. In a pluralistic culture, that community includes faculty, students, and staff who represent important differences. Members of the University's community come from different geographical areas, represent differences in ethnicities, religious beliefs, values, and points of view; they may be physically different, have different intellectual interests, or have different abilities. The University not only welcomes such differences in the members of its community, but in fulfilling its own missions and in preparing the leaders of tomorrow's world who will necessarily be operating in an equally wide-ranging environment, it actively seeks to recruit and include them in all aspects of the institution's operations.

COMMUNAL PRINCIPALS

PURPOSE

The principles of fairness, freedom, honesty, inclusion, respect and responsibility are the necessary conditions of learning. The College, in particular, is a community of engaged individuals who come together in a residential learning environment to learn, to teach or to work in service to these endeavors. To encourage the participation and involvement of all members of The College, we have set forwards several fundamental interrelated principles. It is these principles that we will use to develop systems and processes that safeguard the special nature of The College community and to ensure the involvement and inclusion of all its members.

FAIRNESS

The principles of fairness and openness are fundamental to the operations of this community—its processes for decision-making, problem solving, and doing the work of the institution. Every person has the right to, and should expect, fair treatment according to openly stated and clearly articulated expectations, policies and procedures, and in accordance with the fundamental rights and privileges of a free society. Every person is encouraged, in parallel ways, to use fair and open methods of communication and action, including wherever possible, those provided by existing institutional channels, in voicing concerns and seeking solutions to problems.

FREEDOM

The freedom of all people in a community of learning to ask questions and to seek answers is essential and actively encouraged. Each person has the right to learn, teach, and work—to express themselves through their ideas and activities—without threat to his or her education or career progress or to that of others. Freedom of expression of ideas and action is not to be limited by acts of intimidation, political or ideological oppression, abuse of authority, or threat of physical harm and well being.

HONESTY

Honesty and personal integrity are fundamental to all assumptions of participation in a community dedicated to the advancement of knowledge. Honesty advances our efforts as well as strengthens the interrelationships on which community is built. On the other hand, dishonesty undermines the search for truth and undermines the bonds between the persons who live, study, and work here. It further damages community by wasting the energy and educational opportunities of all involved.

INCLUSION

Our community welcomes, encourages, and supports individuals who desire to contribute to and benefit from the institution's missions. Members of the University's community come from different geographical areas, represent differences in ethnicities, religious beliefs, values, and points of view; they may be physically different, have different intellectual interests, or have different abilities. We not only welcome such differences in members of our community but we also actively seek to include them in all aspects of the institution's operations.

RESPECT

Respect for the basic dignity of self and others is essential to this community. Every person has the right to be treated with respect, regardless of the many differences that distinguish individuals and groups. Respect involves showing regard for other's well-being and safety as well as for their personal property, personal space, and for their living, learning, and working activities. In addition, members of this community also have a responsibility to respect the properties and functions of the institution.

RESPONSIBILITY

Freedom and responsibility are two sides of the same coin. To uphold this kind of freedom of expression and action in the public arena, each person has the responsibility to own his or her ideas and actions as well as to express them in ways that do not limit or threaten others' freedom to learn, teach and work. This means that ideas and actions are neither anonymous nor isolated. To act or express one's ideas openly and in a responsible manner enhances the learning and growth of all. On the other hand, to act or express one's ideas in an irresponsible manner impinges on other's rights and freedom to learn and grow.

ACADEMIC HONESTY – GUIDELINES FOR STUDENTS

Definition

What constitutes academic dishonesty at the University of Rochester?

Academic dishonesty can involve a wide range of offenses. Our policy lists several types of offenses, including (but not limited to):

- Plagiarism
- Copying papers, online answer keys, or answers on exams, or allowing others to copy your work
- Any other act that represents someone else's work as your own
- Hindering the use of or access to library materials, such as the removal of books from the libraries without formally checking out the items, or the intentional hiding of materials, or the refusal to return reserve readings to the library, etc.
- Obtaining an exam prior to its administration, or using unauthorized aid during an examination
- Altering answers on graded exams and submitting them for re-grading
- Copying data from other students' labs or research projects or allowing others to copy your data
- Using labs, papers or assignments from previous semesters or from other students and submitting them for credit
- Turning in identical work on collaborative assignments
- Giving or receiving inappropriate help or feedback on written assignments
- Unauthorized recording, distribution or publication of lectures or other course-related materials
- Using another student's username or password for online logins, or permitting such use
- Giving false information or false alibis to the Board on Academic Honesty
- Forging signatures or falsifying information on academic or medical forms

Academic dishonesty is not limited to those offenses listed above. If you're not sure whether what you're doing constitutes academic dishonesty, ask your instructor or the Academic Honesty Liaison. Ask via e-mail if possible, and save a copy of the response.

How do I avoid academic dishonesty?

You will have many opportunities to practice academic honesty, such as during quizzes and examinations, writing lab reports and papers, and in group projects. Here are some tips and resources to help.

Exams and Quizzes

Writing Papers

Group Projects

Exams and Quizzes

Even if you're not cheating on an exam, you might be accused of cheating if you act suspiciously. Avoid conflict and protect yourself by following these tips:

- All students copy and sign this Honor Pledge on all exams: "I affirm that I will not give or receive any unauthorized help on this exam, and that all work will be my own."
- Start studying early. Reviewing material during the semester will help you learn.
- Make sure the instructor has approved using old exams to prepare for the test before you look at them.
- Don't bring a backpack or other unnecessary bags to the exam, or set them far away from you.
- Make sure all of your bags are zipped shut and that no loose papers can be seen or slide out from under your desk.
- Set all of your materials on your desk before the exam starts. Don't reach down for pencils, calculators, etc.
- Even if the instructor doesn't require it, sit far away from other students, or sit at the front of the classroom near the instructor.
- If possible, do not bring your cell phone into the exam room. If you must have it with you, turn it off and keep it in a closed backpack or other bag. You should not have it on your person in a pocket, in your hand, on your desk or otherwise visible to you.
- Resources promoting time management and study skills are found at the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning.

Writing Papers

You are responsible to understand and avoid plagiarism. When in doubt, cite your source. Write academically honest papers using these tips:

- What is plagiarism and how do I avoid it? More detail available here.
- When do I need to reference someone else's ideas in a paper?
- Quick overview on citations at this Research Guide for Students.
- Always follow the citation method required for your discipline (MLA, APA, etc.) and ask if you aren't sure which to use.
- I already had an idea but I just found it in this source: what do I do now?
- I want a friend to give feedback on my paper, or a friend wants me to give feedback: can I do that?
- Cite websites correctly. Because many books don't have up-to-date sections on web citations, consult the Study Guides and Strategies website for a range of acceptable citation styles across different academic disciplines.
- Resources promoting research skills and writing skills are found at the Library and Writing Program.

If an instructor or teaching assistant tells you that you may use material verbatim from a lab manual or some other reference without citing it, make very certain that this is exactly what they want. Clarify the issue through an e-mail and save the e-mail.

Group Projects

When you work in a group, every member is responsible for the final product. Create group projects safely with these tips:

- Clearly define who will work on what, and ask the instructor if you are not sure about how work is being divided.
- Start early and set deadlines before the due date so you have a chance to work together and can check others' work.
- If you do not understand the guidelines for academically honest group projects, ask your instructor, and try to get the answer in writing.

What happens if I'm accused of academic dishonesty?

The academic honesty process at University of Rochester sets high standards for academic honesty in all academic work. It focuses on taking responsibility for all actions, both honest and dishonest, and learning from mistakes. While the policy recognizes that undergraduate students are becoming proficient in the standards of academic honesty, there are serious penalties for academic dishonesty based on the damage it causes to the academic community.

If you are suspected of academic dishonesty, you must remain in the course and cannot declare the S/F option unless a) you are found not responsible, or b) you have signed an Instructor Resolution Warning Letter that has been approved by the Board on Academic Honesty. So continue to fulfill all class obligations: attend all classes, complete all assignments and take all tests. A charge of academic dishonesty is not a reason to give up on a class, no matter how much the charge of dishonesty makes you feel uncomfortable. The person reporting you (often a course instructor) cannot impose a penalty without going through the procedures outlined in the Policy. If you feel your instructor is attempting to punish you for suspected dishonesty without going through approved academic honesty procedures or if s/he asks you to withdraw from the course, please contact the chair of the board. There are three possible methods of reporting: an Instructor Resolution Warning Letter, an Instructor Resolution With Penalty, and a Board Resolution.

Instructor Resolution Warning Letter

If the suspected academic dishonesty is minor and resulting from inexperience, an instructor may fill out a Warning Letter. If the instructor requests a meeting with you to discuss the suspected improper academic conduct, attend the meeting.

Be sure you understand the precise nature of the charges against you and the events or documentation that support those charges. Ask questions. If you are innocent, try to provide as much evidence of your innocence as possible to the instructor.

Read the College Academic Honesty Policy very carefully to familiarize yourself with rules and procedures.

Consult with the Academic Honesty Liaison, who can answer your questions about policies and procedures and give you advice.

If the professor remains convinced of your academic dishonesty, you may be asked to sign an agreement admitting to your responsibility in exchange for an agreed-upon penalty. This method of dealing with improper academic conduct uses an Instructor Resolution Warning Letter. If you sign the Warning Letter, your case will be reviewed by the chair of the Board on Academic Honesty, who will either approve it as completed, or renegotiate the penalty with the instructor and with you in order to conform to College policy and precedent.

You are under no obligation to sign the Warning Letter. If you choose not to do so, your case will be turned over for review by the Board on Academic Honesty. (Alleged violations of the policy are dealt with by the board, not by the Dean of Students Office.) At this point the procedure is the same as that followed when a Board Resolution case is submitted.

You may find this list of resources helpful when you are suspected of academic dishonesty.

Instructor Resolution With Penalty

An instructor may choose an Instructor Resolution With Penalty Process. If the instructor requests a meeting with you to discuss the suspected violation, attend the meeting.

Be sure you understand the precise nature of the charges against you and the events or documentation that support those charges. Ask questions. If you are innocent, try to provide as much evidence of your innocence as possible to the instructor.

Read the College Academic Honesty Policy very carefully to familiarize yourself with rules and procedures.

Consult with the Academic Honesty Liaison, who can answer your questions about policies and procedures and give you advice.

If the professor remains convinced of your academic dishonesty, you may be asked to sign an agreement admitting to your responsibility in exchange for an agreed-upon penalty. If you sign the Instructor Resolution With Penalty Form, your case will be reviewed by the chair of the Board on Academic Honesty, who will either approve it as completed, or renegotiate the penalty with the instructor and with you in order to conform to College policy and precedent.

You are under no obligation to sign the Instructor Resolution With Penalty Form. If you choose not to do so, your case will be turned over for review by the Board on Academic Honesty. (Alleged violations of the policy are dealt with by the board, not by the Dean of Students Office.) At this point the procedure is the same as that followed when a Board Resolution case is submitted to the board.

You may find this list of resources helpful when you are suspected of academic dishonesty.

Board Resolution

An instructor may choose a Board Resolution, sometimes without notifying you. This process requires a hearing before the board.

You will receive notification from the board of the allegation that has been made and your hearing date.

You should review your case file by making an appointment with the secretary to the board. You will not be permitted to photocopy or otherwise make an image of the case file, but you may take notes on the contents of the file. Read the College Academic Honesty Policy very carefully to familiarize yourself with rules and procedures.

If you like, you may bring one community member (University of Rochester instructor, administrator, student or staff member) to the hearing for moral support. That person may speak to you during the hearing, but may not speak to the board. This community member must not be acting as an attorney, or an individual involved in the case.

At the hearing, be sure to refute any information presented in the file or during the hearing that you believe to be in error.

Be sure to familiarize yourself with the Academic Honesty Policy, where the process is outlined.

You may find this list of resources helpful when you are suspected of academic dishonesty.

What happens after a Board Hearing?

If a student is exonerated, an exoneration letter will be written by the Presiding Officer and sent to the Chair of the Board, who will review the decision. If the chair does not recommend the board reconsider the finding, s/he will send the decision letter to the student and reporting person (usually a course instructor). The board file for the case will be destroyed within thirty days of the date of the exoneration letter.

If a Hearing Board finds a student responsible for academic dishonesty, the Presiding Officer provides a written report of the findings to the Chair of the Board, including a recommended penalty. The chair then reviews the report to ensure that the case was handled consistently with board procedures and precedents. The chair may discuss the case with the Hearing Board and may request a modification of the decision and the penalty. The chair finalizes and presents the decision letter to the student and reporting person (usually a course instructor). Students may appeal the board's decision to their dean. Appeals must be initiated by means of a letter written to the dean within one week of the date of the decision letter.

The penalty (e.g., grade change, course failure, suspension) is implemented. Sanctions assigned, such as a failing grade, become part of the Registrar's official records. Students who are suspended are withdrawn from the University for the specified period of time. During the period of their suspension, any transcript the student may request indicating that the student was suspended due to academic dishonesty, and refers the recipient of the transcript to the dean of the student's College.

Board files on all individual cases remain in the possession of the secretary to the board for a period of seven years, after which they are destroyed. The reporting person (usually an instructor) is required to keep the information confidential. Students applying for awards and fellowships or employment may be asked to sign a waiver revealing whether they have been found responsible of academic dishonesty as part of the application process. No information about a student's academic honesty record will be shared without a signed waiver, unless required by law.

Students should be aware that a second finding of responsibility for academic dishonesty carries very severe penalties. The standard penalty for a second offense is suspension from the University. The board strongly urges students who have been found responsible for academic dishonesty to take even greater care in the future to avoid any behavior or study habits that may lead to another charge of suspected academic dishonesty.

Therapists at UCC have experience in assisting students with a variety of concerns such as: anxiety, apprehension about major life decisions, depression, relationship difficulties, family problems, eating concerns, sexual functioning, sexual identity, roommate hassles, and general discomfort about what is happening in a student's life. UCC also offers a variety of therapy/support groups on topics such as: adult children of alcoholics, survivors of sexual abuse; eating disorders, bereavement, and general concerns.

Confidentiality: All contacts with a University Counseling Center therapist are confidential. The fact that a student is using UCC will not be disclosed to any University official or faculty member, or to family, friends or roommates, without permission of the student except in very specific circumstances. Those circumstances are limited to instances when a student's life or that of another person is in danger. UCC will not release any clinical information about a student's visit, even with a student's written request, except to another therapist for purposes of further treatment.

The UCC web site provides information about UCC services and links the reader to other online health care sites. In addition, a section entitled "Helpful Information" provides educational information about such topics as depression, stress, anxiety, substance abuse, and relaxation techniques. Mental health questions can be address to the UCC on-line resource "Dear Dr. Ana-lyze." Designed as a forum for discourse on mental health concerns, this site is to be used strictly as an educational tool and in no way attempts to replace formal therapy.

After Hours Care: A professional-on-call is available 24 hours a day throughout the year to deal with urgent situations and can be reached at 275-3113.

FIRE SAFETY

UNIVERSITY FIRE MARSHAL'S OFFICE

Location: 685 Mt. Hope Avenue
Phone: 585-275-3241
Fax: 585-275-0001
Web site: www.safety.rochester.edu

On August 1, 1987, Monroe County No Smoking Legislation went into effect which restricts smoking in public places. The University prohibits smoking in any/all of its buildings. This includes e-cigarettes. All members of the community are expected to observe these regulations. For further information see EH&S Emergency Evacuation Information on our web site at <http://www.safety.rochester.edu/fire/RC/ResHousingApartment.html>

To Report Smoke or Fire:

- Activate the building fire alarm system. Manual pull stations are usually located near exit stairwells on all floors and at the exit doors. This alarm signal will automatically be relayed to the Public Safety Dispatch.

- Call Public Safety (X13 or 275-3333) from a safe location. Tell the Public Safety Dispatcher your name and the specific place and nature of the emergency.

When an Alarm Rings:

Follow RACE:

Rescue and relocate anyone in immediate danger

Activate building fire alarm to alert others and report the incident

Confine the fire by closing all doors

Evacuate the building using the closest exit and move a safe distance away from the building.

- Do not use elevators! They may not take you to safety.
- Do not return to the building until instructed by the fire department or a University representative.
- Should you be trapped in your room, close and seal the doors. Most buildings will not contribute fuel, but its contents will. Call Public Safety (X13) and tell them your location.

FIRE ALARMS AND EXTINGUISHERS

Smoke and/or heat detectors have been installed in all rooms to provide early detection of fire and also to provide early warning of fire to occupants. Accordingly, there is no cooking allowed in student rooms at any time. To avoid false alarms, residents should never leave food to cook unattended in kitchen or kitchenettes or allow exceptional concentration of shower steam to escape into the area of the detector.

The University has completed a multi-year project of installing sprinkler systems into all of our on-campus residence halls. These systems will quickly contain a fire should one occur in a room. The disconnection or tampering of room smoke detectors or sprinklers will result in appropriate disciplinary action by the College.

Students should be aware of the location of the fire alarm pull stations and extinguishers in their areas. Students are encouraged not to use fire extinguishers during a fire unless they have been properly trained in the use of fire extinguishers within the last year and the building fire alarm has been activated. Fire Marshal's Office personnel periodically check fire extinguishers to ensure they are in good operating condition, as well as check the building for fire hazards.

Persons not responding to a drill or found tampering with fire alarms or fire extinguishers will be subject to disciplinary action by the College. The New York State Education law requires three fire drills be held in each academic building on campus during the academic year. Four fire drills per year are mandated in residence halls. At least one drill must be held during the house after sunset and before sunrise in a building in which students are provided with sleeping accommodations.

The Fire Marshal's Office and the New York State Office of Fire Prevention and Control make fire prevention and safety inspections of all residence halls during the academic year. Resident Advisers may be asked to accompany inspectors if necessary to enter student rooms. If you come across a fire hazard or have a fire safety concern, contact your resident adviser or the Fire Marshal's Office at 275-3243.

PROHIBITED UR ITEMS

- The use of candles, lanterns, lamps or any other items that produce an open flame are prohibited. Please call the Fire Marshal's office at 275-3243 if candles are needed for religious purposes.

ADDITIONAL FIRE AND SAFETY INFORMATION

- Do not hang anything from the sprinkler head, sprinkler pipes or smoke detector in your room. The sprinkler head could break and flood the room and/or a smoke detector may malfunction.
- Do not tamper with any fire protection equipment. Report all vandalized equipment or suspicious people in your area to Public Safety, the Office of Residential Life or your Resident Adviser.
- Do not cover, remove or tamper with smoke detectors.

SERVING OUR COMMUNITY

The Department of Public Safety is comprised of approximately 130 full-time staff that provides uniformed patrol, investigative, crime prevention, victim assistance, and workplace violence services, and specialized programs tailored to specific campus needs. They respond to calls of any nature, including all campus emergencies – fire, accidents, physical crimes and disturbances. Public Safety is a missed force of sworn peace officers and public safety officers. Peace officers are able to make arrests due to the commission of a felony, misdemeanor, or other breach of peace based on probable cause, and can make mental health arrests – an authority that allows peace officers to intervene promptly in mental health emergencies. University peace officers carry batons and pepper foam as defensive weapons when dealing with potentially dangerous situations. They do not carry firearms.

- All public safety officers are selected after a thorough investigation designed to choose individuals who are dedicated, sensitive, and display good communication skills. They hold a New York State license (requiring 32 hours of training) and receive an additional 560 hours of in-house basic training. Designated sworn peace officers complete at least 400 more hours of New York State certified instruction from the municipal public safety training center.
- Approximately 40 trained, part-time student aides assist our professional staff and work in selected areas of the campus and residence halls during the academic year. These students are in constant radio contact with us, should unauthorized persons or other conditions affecting general safety be discovered.

WE ARE IN THIS TOGETHER

Working together promotes awareness of the needs of one's neighbors and fosters a sense of common purpose. The University of part of a larger, urban community in which crime is a constant reality. Maintaining a safe and secure community must be a cooperative undertaking. Public Safety alone cannot resolve every breach of good security practice.

A partnership is required. Here is what you can do:

- Attend at least one of the many personal safety seminars offered throughout the year and incorporate the ideas suggested into daily habits.
- Report hazards, keeping in mind the various means available to summon aid in an emergency.
- Pay attention to signs of possible risk and plan how to respond to these unexpected and unwanted situations.
- Remember, you are responsible for the actions of those you invite to campus while they are here. You can help by informing them of the University's policies, rules, regulations and expectations for proper behavior.

The University of Rochester's annual fire and safety reports include statistics for the previous three years concerning fire incidents and reported crimes that occurred on campus; in certain off-campus buildings owned or controlled by the University; and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from, the University's campuses. The reports also include institutional policies regarding campus security, fire safety, alcohol and drug use, crime prevention, the reporting of crimes, sexual assault and other matters. You can obtain a copy, titled Think Safe, by calling 275-3340, or view the contents by accessing the following web site:

The University of Rochester prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex, including acts of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence and stalking. Information on the policies and procedures related to this prohibited behavior can be found online here: <http://www.rochester.edu/eoc/index.html> and by contacting Morgan Levy, the Title IX Coordinator for the University by phone at 275-7814 or via e-mail at Morgan.Levy@rochester.edu.

AUTHORITY

New York State Education Law requires the University to establish policies, regulations, and procedures for the maintenance of public order on its campuses and properties. These provisions are set forth in a "Standards of Conduct" statement adopted by the Board of Trustees on July 15, 1970, and published in the Faculty Handbook.

The Department of Public Safety is charged with providing general public safety services at the University, and takes steps to insure the maintenance of public order consistent with its mission. Peace Officers authority is outlined in the New York State Criminal Procedure Law, Article 2.10, Section 83.

Our department can communicate directly with the Rochester Police Department and other law enforcement agencies through the 911 Center and by direct radio contact with selected police units if a serious crime is committed in the University area. We have an excellent working relationship with area law enforcement agencies. Serving as the University's liaison group, our staff works very closely, and is in regular contact with, these agencies. We routinely share information related to criminal activity. Criminal incidents and related information are recorded by us for statistical purposes.

Students, faculty, staff and visitors to the University are encouraged to report promptly criminal incidents, sexual offenses or other emergencies by following the procedures under "How to Report a Crime." You can report an incident in person at any one of University Public Safety's three offices. "Blue Light" emergency telephones, which are connected directly to the Public Safety Dispatcher, are available throughout the University.

HOW TO CONTACT PUBLIC SAFETY

The University maintains an extensive network of over 500 interior and exterior public access telephones. You can call the Public Safety Communications Center for assistance at any time of the day or night from any of these phones. Included are over 185 direct-dial Blue Light Emergency Phones.

- In an EMERGENCY, dial x13 from any University phone, including service phones located at building entrances, or dial #413 from AT&T or Verizon cell phones. Dial 275-3333 from any other phone. Or pick up a Blue Light Emergency Phone located along pedestrian pathways and parking areas, and you will be connected to one of our emergency dispatchers automatically. An officer will be sent to your location right away. Local police, fire or ambulance agencies will be notified as needed. [Currently, if you call 911 from within the University phone system, your exact location will not be displayed to the 911 system operator.]
- For non-emergencies, dial 275-3333. You may also use a Blue Light Emergency Phone.

- The Dispatcher will determine first that you are safe. Once that is known, you will be asked for your name and location, as well as descriptive information about the incident or event with which you are involved. This information will assist the responding officer(s), and other emergency responders.
- You may contact an on-duty supervisor 24 hours a day by calling 275-3333.
- For crime prevention services, call 275-2220. For investigative services, call 275-3436. For victim's assistance services call 275-2090.

WHERE TO FIND PUBLIC SAFETY

Our administrative offices are located at the University Public Safety Center, 612 Wilson Boulevard. Office hours are 8:30am to 5:00pm weekdays. Call 275-3340 or 275-3437, fax 275-0344, or send email to 4_info@security.rochester.edu for more information. Our website is at www.publicsafety.rochester.edu.

We are located in the Medical Center in Room G-6009 (near the bookstore and bank). Office hours are 8:30am to 5:00pm weekdays. Call 275-2221 or fax 271-4513.

We are available to meet with students at the Eastman School of Music. We have space in the ESM main hall and in the main lobby of the Student Living Center. Call 273-5200.

HOW TO REPORT A CRIME

If you are a victim or witness to a crime, we urge you to call University Public Safety immediately. If the crime is in progress or involves possible violence, call our emergency number, x13 or pick up any Blue Light Emergency Phone, or dial #413 from AT&T or Verizon cell phones in the Rochester area. If the crime involves property, but does not pose an immediate threat, call our non-emergency number, 275-3333.

After you report a crime, we can suggest where you may get follow-up assistance. These may include your insurance carrier, our crime prevention staff, the Office of the Dean of Students, a Human Resources staff member or other law enforcement contact. If you recall helpful information after filing the report, contact us as soon as possible. This may include new witnesses, a more precise description of identifying markings, the value of the property, or the recovery of missing or stolen property.

If a follow-up investigation is successful, we may need further assistance from you. For example, you may be asked to identify property or suspects, or be asked to testify at administrative or judicial hearings.

The Department of Public Safety is designated to be the primary receiver of reports of crimes, to make timely warnings of criminal activity to the community, and to disclose crime statistics annually.

If you are the victim of a crime of other misconduct on campus, and simply will not pursue direct action within the University or criminal justice system, you may still want to consider making a confidential report. With your permission, we can prepare a report of the details of the incident without revealing your identity. The purpose of such a confidential report is to learn about the existence of a possible problem that would not be disclosed otherwise. The information can help put in place corrective measures to safeguard you and others in the future. Additionally, this information helps the University keep a more complete record of these incidents, assists with determining whether there's a pattern, and serves as a basis for education or publicity campaigns to the campus community regarding potential issues of concern. Any incident reported in this manner will be included as a statistical tally only, as we include proxy reports for sexual offenses and other crimes in our annual Clery Act report.

You may also seek out other University resources to discuss your concerns, and disclose a criminal incident. These reports are required to be included as statistics in the annual report to our community. Campus Authorities with responsibility for campus activities who must report crime statistics to the Department of Public Safety include but are not limited to:

- Title IX Coordinator
- Dean of Students for the colleges on River Campus, at the Medical Center and at the Eastman School of Music
- Dean of Graduate Studies
- Director of Residential Life on River Campus and at the Eastman School of Music
- Associate Vice President for Facilities and Services
- Associate Vice President for Human Resources
- Director of Athletics and Recreation
- Director for the Center for Student Conflict Management

Counselors or pastoral staff, acting in a professional capacity, are exempt from reporting incidents in a timely manner. However, they are encouraged to provide general disclosure crime event attributes via our proxy or confidential report processes.

CRIME PREVENTION AND VICTIM ASSISTANCE

Through Student Orientation Programs, Parent Orientation Programs, service fairs, new employee orientation and individual resident hall floor presentations, crime prevention staff address thousands of students, parents, and employees on personal safety issues yearly. We respond to special request from groups of staff members of students and present individualized workshops on topics of particular concern. We also distribute Safety Bulletins and conduct office/building safety surveys. We make available victim assistance support services for a crime against the person. Assistance may begin shortly after a crime is reported and may continue through the often confusing stages of the criminal justice process.

The University does not assume responsibility for property if it is lost or stolen. To protect your property, record any identifying marks or serial numbers on a list and keep it in a safe place. Items without serial numbers may be engraved with a unique number for identification purposes. We strongly urge you to check your family homeowner's insurance policy and secure coverage if needed. To find out more about any of the services offered by our Crime Prevention Office, call 275-2220.

PERSONAL SAFETY ESCORTS

University Public Safety will arrange for an escort to and from University locations. We will choose the most efficient way to provide you with an escort based on our activity levels at the time. We acknowledge emergencies and other high priority non-emergency calls for services first, so there may be some delay in our response to your request. Please be patient. Your own safety is not worth sacrificing for a few extra minutes. We don't provide escorts to off-campus locations. To request an escort, call 275-3333 or pick up a Blue Light Emergency Phone.

HELP US HELP YOU

The quality of our services is dependent on the feedback from those we serve. Our professional standards process helps us respond to complaints and concerns. We also wish to recognize instances where our staff have been especially helpful and exceeded your expectations in the services they have provided.

Our public safety officers' relationships with our community are vital to achieving our overall mission of a safe and secure campus environment. All members of the community should expect to be treated in a courteous and professional manner by members of the department. We will not tolerate unprofessional or rude behavior or a substandard level of service.

During your time at the University it is possible you could be given directions, or be asked for information, by a Public Safety Officer or other University representative responding to a call for service involving an urgent matter, a crime, or a violation of University regulations. You may be asked to identify yourself and, subsequently, to produce your University issued identification card. Your ID card quickly verifies that you may have certain privileges not extended to those not affiliated with the University. You should carry your identification card at all times and must present it on request to any authorized representative.

If the officer is investigating a crime, complain, or a violation of University rules and regulations, you should expect to be asked reasonable questions that will help determine the facts and circumstances of a situation or other inquiry. At some point, the officer should provide you with a brief explanation as to the reason for the request for information. Circumstances may require a quick verification of identity and affiliation before responding. However, the interaction should not end without the officer taking time to provide feedback or answer general questions.

We want to make sure our services meet your needs, and would like to hear from you if you have a question, wish to say thanks, or file a complaint. To reach us you have several options:

- Call 275-3333 and ask to speak with the on-duty shift supervisor.
- Call or top by one of our offices on the River Campus or Medical Center, and speak with a member of our management team responsible for services in those areas.
- Send a written inquiry to the Director of University Public Safety, Mark Fischer, University Public Safety Center, 612 Wilson Boulevard, Box 278950, or email him at mark.fischer@security.rochester.edu.
- File a Security Feedback form that can be found at www.publicsafety.rochester.edu.

INTERCESSORS

The University intercessors are listeners, problem-solvers, and impartial mediators. In a disagreement situation, our role is to help resolve problems through an informal process of dialogue, which is separate from the University's formal complaint or grievance process. We welcome the opportunity to talk confidentially with students who feel they have been unfairly treated or disrespected and don't know where to go for help. We are particularly interested in helping students who believe they have been harassed or discriminated against.

THINGS TO DO IN ROCHESTER

There are so many opportunities to get involved at the UR that students run the risk of missing out on all that the City of Rochester has to offer. Rochester boasts a wealth of historical and cultural resources comparable with much larger cities.

Transportation services are free with your URID. Shuttles running during the summer include the Blue and Orange line, as well as a weekend shuttle service to places such as Wegmans, College Town, Marketplace Mall, and Regal Cinemas. The Blue Line runs between River Campus, Medical Center, Graduate Living Center, and South Campus. The Orange Line provides daily service to the South Wedge, Park Avenue, Monroe Avenue, and East End neighborhoods as well as the Eastman School of Music.

SITES IN THE CITY

The Blue Cross Arena at the Rochester War memorial is a 12,000-seat venue for concerts and sporting events located just a couple of miles north of campus on the west side of the river. In the winter months it is home to the Rochester Americans, the ice hockey team affiliated with the Buffalo Sabres of the National Hockey League. It is also home to the Rochester Raiders (arena football), Knighthawks (lacrosse) and Razor Sharks (basketball). For schedules visit www.bluecrossarena.com.

City Hall, 30 Church Street, is a magnificently restored building. The central atrium is an attraction in itself. Besides municipal offices, City Hall houses exhibits, concerts, and other performing arts events.

The historic Cinema Theater is located just across the street from the Highland Diner at the corner of S. Clinton and Goodman and is Rochester's oldest neighborhood movie theater, which opened in 1914. Famous for its double features and affordable snacks, the Cinema is a great place to catch a movie (or two). Student discount tickets are available every day. www.cinemarochester.com.

Downstairs Cabaret Theater is a not-for-profit professional theater that puts on many plays and musicals throughout the year. Visit www.downstairscabaret.com for a schedule of events and ticket information. Student discounts are available.

The Eastman School of Music, at the corner of Main and Gibbs Streets, is one of the world's major centers for the study of music and is part of the University. Facilities include the Sibley Music Library, the Howard Hanson Recital Hall, and the Eastman Theatre. For a listing of public performances, concerts, and recitals, call the Music Line at 274-1100 or visit www.esm.rochester.edu/concerts/.

Frontier Field is Rochester's downtown stadium, home to the Red Wings baseball team, and special events from spring through fall. The Red Wings are the triple-A affiliate of the Minnesota Twins baseball team. Visit www.redwingsbaseball.com/ for more information.

The Genesee River Parks along the Genesee River are some of the area's most beautiful parks. Don't leave Rochester without visiting the "north coast" on Lake Ontario, just twelve miles north of campus. Ontario Beach Park, at Lake and Beach Avenues, is near the Charlotte Lighthouse. Turning Point Park, at Lake Avenue and Boxart Street, offers a scenic spot for picnicking, fishing and water fun and features a spectacular boardwalk across a stretch of the river. Seneca Park is home to the zoo, and is a great spot for biking, hiking, fishing and picnicking. Downtown, you might want to picnic at the Genesee Crossroads Park on Andrews Street, the Aqueduct Park on Main Street, or the Erie Canal Aqueduct on Broad Street. The Genesee Gateway Park is on Mt. Hope Avenue, and right next to the UR is Genesee Valley Park, with hiking and biking trails, swimming, boating, skating, tennis, golf and athletic fields. The New York State Barge Canal intersects the river here, providing access to the canal path, which leads for many miles both east and west along the historic canal system. Genesee Valley Park, Seneca Park and Highland Park were all designed by the renowned landscape architect, Frederick Law Olmsted (best known for designing New York's Central Park), and are the crown jewels of Rochester's park system.

The George Eastman House, 900 East Avenue, is a must-see for its architecture and grounds as well as a museum of photography.
