Honorary Awards

E. Michael Campbell

Honorary Doctor of Science

Michael Campbell directed the University's Laboratory for Laser Energetics from 2017 to 2021, overseeing a period of record funding for the lab and a 20 percent increase in the number of staff at the facility, which is a national resource for research and education in science and technology. Over the course of a 40-plus-year career, Campbell has become an internationally known expert in inertial confinement fusion, high-energy-density physics, and high-powered lasers. As a scientific leader, he initiated the world's largest laser, the National Ignition Facility at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a master's degree from Princeton University.

Laura L. Carstensen '78

Honorary Doctor of Science

Commencement Speaker

Laura Carstensen is the Fairleigh S. Dickinson Jr. Professor in Public Policy at Stanford University, where she is the founder and director of the Stanford Center on Longevity. An internationally recognized psychologist, she has led research to help dispel misconceptions about the well-being of older adults by focusing on the rich psychological lives of people as they age. She is the author of several books, including A Long Bright Future: Happiness, Health, and Financial Security in an Age of Increased Longevity. After receiving a bachelor's degree from Rochester, she earned her master's and doctoral degrees from West Virginia University.

Maria Schneider '85E (MM)

Honorary Doctor of Musical Arts

A Grammy Award-winning composer, Maria Schneider has earned accolades for the artistry of her music and for her leadership in helping protect the intellectual property of creative artists. The recipient of seven Grammys, Schneider is one of only a few recording artists to receive the award in multiple genres. Her 2004 album Concert in the Garden, produced through the crowd-funding company ArtistShare, was the first recording to receive a Grammy with internet-only sales. She earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota and a master's degree from the University's Eastman School of Music.

Robert A. Montgomery '87M (MD)

Charles Force Hutchison and Marjorie Smith Hutchison Medal

A nationally recognized physician, educator, and administrator, Robert Montgomery is the H. Leon Pachter, MD Professor and the chair of surgery at New York University's Langone Health, where he is the inaugural director of Langone's Transplant Institute. Under his leadership, the transplant program has been regularly ranked as the top program across several types of transplants. Among his contributions to clinical medicine, Montgomery helped develop a procedure for kidney donation that has become the standard throughout the world. He earned a bachelor's degree from St. Lawrence University, an MD from the University's School of Medicine and Dentistry, and a doctorate from the University of Oxford.

Francis L. Price '74, '75S (MBA)

Charles Force Hutchison and Marjorie Smith Hutchison Medal

A noted entrepreneur, business leader, and advocate for equity and inclusion in educational and professional settings, Francis Price is the CEO and president of PHG Engineering LLC and of Interact Performance Systems. A member of the University's Board of Trustees from 1995 to 2020, when he was appointed a life trustee, Price has been a leading supporter, mentor, and advocate for the University's underrepresented, first-generation, and international students, as well as the Black Alumni Network. A native of Jamaica, he holds a bachelor's degree from the University's School of Arts & Sciences and an MBA from the University's Simon Business School. He is the parent of a Class of 2014 graduate.

Diane M. Hartmann '87M (MD), '91M (Res)

George Eastman Medal

Diane Hartmann has earned recognition as a national leader in efforts to improve medical residency and fellowship education at the University's Medical Center, where she also oversaw a near doubling in the number of programs and trainees during the past 30 years. As the senior associate dean of graduate medical education and a professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Rochester, she has been honored by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education and other national organizations. She earned a bachelor's degree from Canisius College, a master's degree from SUNY Buffalo, and an MD from the University's School of Medicine and Dentistry, where she also completed a residency in obstetrics and gynecology. She is the parent of a Class of 2020 graduate.

Glenn Mackin

Edward Peck Curtis Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching

Glenn Mackin has served as chair of the Department of Humanities at the University's Eastman School of Music since 2016. He teaches courses on political theory, thought, and aesthetics as well as on democratic theory, concepts of equality, and other areas. He joined the University as an assistant professor in 2007 and was named an associate professor in 2013. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Ohio University before receiving his PhD from the University of Washington.

Karen Berger

Edward Peck Curtis Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching

An associate professor of instruction in the Department of Earth and Environmental Sciences in the University's School of Arts & Sciences, Karen Berger joined the faculty in 2010. She teaches introductory and advanced courses, technical electives, and capstone courses on environmental sciences, energy, hydrology, and sustainability. She earned a bachelor's degree from Stanford University, a master's degree from the University of California, Berkeley, and her PhD from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She also is the parent of a member of the Class of 2027.

Charles Force Hutchison and Marjorie Smith Hutchison Medal
