

GEORGE EASTMAN CIRCLE

Associate Membership

EXCLUSIVELY FOR ALL RECENT GRADUATES

AN INVITATION TO LEAD YOUR GENERATION

As a recent undergraduate of the last decade, and graduate degree alumni in the last 5 years, the University of Rochester invites you to become an Associate Member of the George Eastman Circle—its premier annual giving leadership society. This membership level is exclusive to recent graduates, and carries all of the prestige and benefits of joining at the George Eastman Circle's Member level.

George Eastman Circle members are a new generation of University leaders, and can choose from hundreds of different annual funds to target their gifts. This critical support provides resources that make an immediate impact.

Membership options for your five-year Associate commitment start at just $21 per month for the first year, and you can be the architect of your giving plan over the next five years.

Membership entails a total commitment of $4,000 over five years, and can be allocated evenly or progressively over that time. The University will work with you to design a plan that fits your needs.

George Eastman, the founder of Eastman Kodak Company, played a historic and inspiring role in the development of the University of Rochester. His philanthropic relationship with the University began in 1899 with the gift of a single Kodak camera to a geology professor.

As is often the case with great philanthropists, this small gift eventually led to the transformational gifts that supported the expansion of the University in the 20th century, and created the Eastman School of Music and the School of Medicine and Dentistry.
