

The First-Year Fellows Program (formerly Freshman Fellows) infuses upper-class student mentors and role models with an academic focus into the first-year housing experience. The Office for Residential Life and The College are looking for interested students who would like to serve as upper-class mentors next year by sharing their ideas and experiences with first-year students by living as active, participating members of first-year communities.

Responsibilities include:

Serving as a mentor for first-year students

Planning academically based hall programs

Promoting academic engagement in the campus and housing community

What can you gain?

A single room placement in a first-year housing living area (no need to go through Housing Selection)

Leadership skills and experience

$500 stipend applied to term bill

Interested students should submit an application here: <http://tinyurl.com/FellowApp18>

Application is due by February 7th at 11:59pm
