

LEARNING IN THE DIGITAL AGE

LiDA Study Group

Learning and Teaching in Digital Spaces

The Elephant in the Classroom: The Organizational Pitfalls of Promoting the Adoption of Online Learning across Campus

Monday, Feb 6 from 3:00 pm to 4:30 pm in LeChase 305 by Nathan Harris

Hello, all.

Across the nation, colleges and universities continue to experiment with implementing new and exciting offerings in online learning. Some institutions have triumphed in this new space, but most universities have struggled to leverage these new opportunities in depth or at scale. In this seminar discussion, Nathan Harris (Instructor in Warner's Educational Leadership program) will explore the vexing yet predictable organizational conundrums associated with the adoption of online learning at many universities. His aim is to further stimulate research on online education through the lens of university governance and organizational change.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Kind regards,

LiDA Study Group

*Photo taken from

http://www.brettonwoodsproject.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/07/Observer_Summer_Illustration-554x336.jpg