Legal assistance for caregiving

As parents age, it’s not uncommon for adult children to step in to help them handle financial and legal matters. Making decisions about long-term care or estate planning can be very complicated and it can be hard to know where to turn.

In times like these, it is incredibly important to seek professional advice. With the Hyatt Legal Plan, you receive unlimited access to a network of experienced attorneys, who are knowledgeable in matters your parents face as they age.

With a simple phone call, you can receive consultation and document review for a wide range of issues, including Medicare and Medicaid questions, nursing home agreements, wills, powers of attorney and more.1

Consider this real member story:2

“Recently my mother passed away leaving many issues with her estate. I contacted Hyatt Legal Plans and you provided a list of attorneys in my area to help my sister and I through a complex process. [Our attorney] was more than my sister and I could ever expect ... He was responsive, patient, brilliant in his expertise of law with not only excellent presentation skill but people skills as well.”
